

Network Scientific Recruitment

The fresh approach to scientific recruitment

If you operate in the scientific industries and are seeking the perfect candidate for a role, Network Scientific should be your first point of call. Our consultants are all degree qualified in scientific disciplines and have years of industry experience, from the workbench to management. This first-hand knowledge enables us to not only meet but exceed your recruitment needs.

Why choose us?

- We're a specialist recruitment agency working across the science, medicine and engineering industries
- We have the knowledge and the right connections to successfully match job seekers with businesses
- We've walked in your shoes - we are scientists as well as recruitment consultants
- A significant amount of our work is referral-based from satisfied clients
- It's not just recruitment we offer. You can access a full suite of other services all under one roof
- We will listen to you and spend time finding out exactly how your business can benefit from our services
- We operate with honesty and integrity at all times
- We love what we do, and it shows!

I would thoroughly recommend Network Scientific as a recruitment agency; 80% of our clinical research vacancies filled over the past three months is no mean achievement. Thanks to all involved and to our specific recruitment manager in particular.

“

We use Network Scientific to recruit the majority of our staff. They take the time to understand our business culture and help us to integrate the right people into our business. I have no hesitation in recommending the Network Scientific team to anyone looking for a high quality and value-added recruitment service.

A fresh perspective...

Network Scientific is not your typical recruitment agency - we're scientists first, recruiters second!

All our consultants are qualified in scientific disciplines and are certified by the Institute of Recruitment Professionals, so we really know our stuff.

Trying to fill the boots of a valuable team member can be challenging. Personality and culture fit can play as important a part as relevant expertise. That's why, using our decades of experience and wealth of industry contacts, we strive to place the right person in the right role every time.

Expect only the very best customer service when working with us. Whether we're finding maternity cover or sourcing a Managing Director, our team of consultants ensure a smooth experience for all involved.

But we don't need to blow our own trumpet; our clients do that on our behalf. We have a high client retention rate and are proud to have converted many companies from never having used recruiters before to relying on our invaluable support on a day-to-day basis.

Our passion is your future.

Network Scientific offers a full business development package, including Recruitment Services, Sales and Marketing, and Advertising.
